Amacı:

In this course, the general framework of applied linguistics is depicted, and the basic concepts and the literature of related field are introduced. The implementation of linguistic theories to the issues of first and second language acquisition and the use of language in social context are emphasized. The students are informed at an elementary level in such topics as the description and analysis of the nature of language, use of language in education, and how it is learned, taught and assessed. Applied Linguistics I is also intended to provide guidance to students in developing methods to be used in linguistic studies and work plans.

Materyali:

Brown, D. H. (2000). Principles of language learning and teaching (4th ed.). New York: Longman

Öğrenci Sorumluluğu:

Students are expected not only to attend to classes regularly and on time with their necessary documents but also to read beforehand the relevant documents, since this course will be partly in a form of discussions. The classroom language is English, and the use of any other languages shall not be allowed. No assigned works such as class activity, homework, term work and so on will be accepted after the stated deadline.
